Furniture Clinic Was Held Here

Miss Ruth Jamison, homemaking specialist from Blacksburg, recently conducted a Furniture Clinic at the office of the county home demonstration agent, Miss Ella Smith, here. Members of the various home demonstration clubs in the county took advantage of the opportunity to study refinishing of old furniture.

Ask Farmers to Repair Terraces

Blacksburg, Dec. 12.- With crops harvested and winter crops planted, many Virginia farmers are planning to take advantage of the remaining time before winter rains set in to get their terrace maintenance work done.

Experience of farmers in erosion-control areas in Virginia has shown that the one-land meth d is especially well adapted to fall maintenance, Soil Conservation Service engineers report. This method is explained as follows:

Using a two-horse turn plow, begin on top of the terrace ridge and throw one furrow downhill. Throw a second furrow uphill, about 14 to 18 feet up the slope from the first. This lays off a land that can be plowed out to maintain the terrace channel.

Plow the outside furrows deep and close gradually, decreasing the depth and width of the cut as the land is plowed out. The plowing will be completed with dead furrow in the center of the channel flow line. By this method, where grain has not been planted, the native vegetation immediately below the channel will be left undisturbed to control erosion.

After the land has been plowed, the next step is to build up the low places with either a shovel or a slip scrape and to open the ends of the terrace. When the ends are properly opened, they take the same size and shape as the terrace in the field.

The need for terrace maintenance can be seen in the silted channels that have resulted from soil preparation and cultivation. And now that cheap power on the farm has slacked up, an excellent opportunity is afforded for doing terrace maintenance work, the engineers point out.

Miss Gladys Meredith Weds

Mr. George Druen

Mrs. Henry John Meredith announces the marriage of her daughter, Gladys Emma, to Mr. George Henry Druen, son of Mrs. Annie Druen and the late Mr. Druen, of Cumberland, Va. The wedding was solemnized June 25 at Burkeville, Va., with the Rev. Fletcher Ford, pastor of the Burkeville Baptist church, officiating. The bride is a graduate of the Prospect high school and attended Phillips Secretarial College in Lynchburg and later received her diploma from Mrs. M. M. Layne's Business School, in Farmville. For the past year she has held a position with the county librarian of Appomattox schools. The groom is a graduate of John Randolph high school and the Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce. Mr. and Mrs. Druen will make their home in Farmville, where the groom is associated with the Billings Motor Company.

At least one-tenth of all people in the United States depend directly on cotton for their living.

With the income available to them for living, farmers in 1939 could buy about as much goods for their families as they could in the favorable period of the 20's.

A national soil-depleting goal of between 270 and 285 million acres has been provided under the 1940 AAA Farm Program which is intended to furnish ample supplies for all domestic needs, for export requirements, and for an adequate reserve.

On 12 per cent of our land area more than three-fourths of the topsoil has been lost through erosion.

With allowances for taxes and the location of the cotton, Commodity Credit Corporation loans on the 1939 cotton crop will range from 8.7 to 9.3 cents per pound.

Suffering Women Welcome "Build-Up"

A simple method is saving many women much pain and discomfort! It is based on the knowledge that women's headaches, nervousness, and cramp-like pain often are symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to a weak, run-down, undernourished condition. That so many women find relief from these painful symptoms through the CARDUI "build-up" is easy to explain. By improving the appetite, assisting digestion and assimilation, CARDUI helps to build physical resistance against periodic pain. Thousands of women also report that CARDUI, taken just before and during "the time," helps to ease periodic pain.

THE TRUTH ABOUT DIGESTION

"Today's popularity of Tums, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence that Tums do relieve. And favorable public opinion supports that of the physicians who test the value of medicines by observing their results in everyday cases.

These physicians, too, approve every word advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Dean's Pills to you as a medicine that has won world-wide confidence and relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that accumulates in the blood, and how poisonous this can be, they would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys fail, and disorderly action would be more often employed.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for kidney-stimulating use of disorderly kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness, under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all worn out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!
